Course Description & Objectives

AEC 3033C Research & Business Writing focuses on strategic written communication for agricultural and life science industries. Students can hone their writing skills and gain experience in effective professional and scholarly writing. Emphasis is placed on ethics, responsibility, accuracy, clarity and style, as well as English grammar and spelling.

Student Learning Objectives:

- Write effectively in both business and scientific contexts,
- Use clear, concise, and effective written communication, as well as accurate grammar, spelling, and punctuation,
- Communicate information tailored to the needs and expectations of target audiences.

Course Materials

Suggested Textbooks:

Technical Communication Today (5th ed.); ISBN: 0321907981; Author: Richard Johnson-Sheehan

The Elements of an Effective Dissertation & Thesis; ISBN: 1578863511; Author: Raymond L. Calabrese

Canvas Account:

All students will be automatically enrolled for Canvas on e-Learning for this course once they have paid registration. Assignments, resources, grades, and other materials will be posted on the course page throughout the semester. Students are expected to check Canvas frequently and are responsible for monitoring their grades on the system.

Contact

Students are to contact the instructor and teaching assistants through direct email, not through the Canvas messaging system. It is recommended that the student use office hours or schedule appointments to speak with the grader, instead of relying only on email.

Course Expectations

As the instructor, I am committed to helping you improve your writing and critical thinking skills. To that end, you can expect constructive feedback on your writing assignments and an opportunity to apply that feedback on future assignments.

We expect punctual attendance, collegial class participation, on-time submission of assignments, and honest effort. Class starts at 8:30; be in your seat ready for lecture or you will not receive credit for that day. This is a large class setting and while side conversations may appear tempting, refrain or you will be asked to leave class. Students unable to attend class are responsible for obtaining class notes and handouts.

Electronic Devices

I recognize the benefits of technology in the classroom. However, lectures for this class will not be posted online before class, meaning that electronic devices will not be needed in this class. If needed for an activity, I will make an announcement on canvas to bring them before the class.

Teaching Assistants

Your graduate teaching assistants will grade all out-of-class assignments. They will also handle the majority of communication via email and office hours; utilize your teaching assistant to your benefit. All grade discrepancies are to be addressed with your grader within a week of the assignment being posted to Canvas.

Class Format

This class used a combination of class lecturing and in-class assignments. It is important to attend each class as the information received will provide guidance on out-of-class assignments, and points will be accumulated for in-class assignments.

Readings:

Readings that correlate with the topics for the week will be identified in class. The readings and resources placed on Canvas will be your best source for additional information.

In-Class Assignments:

During the course of this class, there will be several in-class assignments — one to two assignments each week. The purpose of these in-class assignments is to allow you to reflect on class concepts, explore relevant resources, and practice expressing your thoughts through writing. These activities cannot be made up without a documented university excused absence.

If an in-class assignment is completed at the beginning of class and you are late, you will receive 50% credit if you made it in time to complete the assignment. If you do not make it in time to complete the assignment, you will receive 0%. Some of the in-class assignments will be group activities. You are expected to split the work equally among group members. If I become aware of unequal workloads within group activities, the instructor reserves the right to assign the earned grades to group members based on contributions.

Syllabi Disclaimer

Serious effort and consideration were used in formulating the syllabi. While viewed as an educational contract between the instructor and student, unforeseen events may cause changes to the scheduling of assignments, lectures, etc., I reserve the right to make any changes deemed necessary to best fulfill the course objectives. You will be made aware of any changes in a timely fashion using reasonable means.

Submission of Assignments

All assignments will be submitted electronically as a Word document through Canvas. Assignments will be graded and resubmitted by your TA as a Word document through Canvas. If you do not have Word on your home computer, the University of Florida provides free downloads of the Office Suite for all UF students at the following link <http://helpdesk.ufl.edu/software-services/>.

When submitting assignments on Canvas, ensure you do the following:

- Your document is in Microsoft Word, (No other formats will be accepted,)
- Your assignment is submitted on the due date by 11:59 p.m.
- Submit your document with your last name, first initial, and assignment name as the file name (Georges, S_Resume).
 - Failure to submit properly can result in point deductions.

Late Assignment Policy:

- Technical difficulties will NOT be an excuse, so plan to submit before the deadline.
- Assignments are considered late at 12:00 a.m. the night they are due. From then on, all assignments will be deducted 10% for each day late. Assignments will not be accepted after three days from the day the assignment was due. This applies to all major assignments; it does not apply to in-class assignments.

Attendance Policy:

Any university-excused absences must be presented to your TA one week prior to the event. If you miss class due to a medical situation, please provide documentation from the doctor with the specific dates you are to be excused for (You have one week to provide documentation or you will not receive those class points). Please speak with myself or your TA about any other excuses at least one week prior to missing class. You will have one week upon returning to class to make-up missed in-class assignments.

Software Use

All faculty, staff and students of the university are required and expected to obey the laws and legal agreements governing software use. Failure to do so can lead to monetary damages and/ or criminal penalties for the individual violator. Because such violations are also against university policies and rules, disciplinary action will be taken as appropriate

Plagiarism: Prevention and Follow Through

In the past, the instructors and teaching assistants in this course have encountered problems with plagiarism, especially in connection with the research writing portion of the class. Submitting work by others, whether in parts or in whole, is plagiarism. All UF parties involved will be reprimanded if evidence of plagiarism surfaces through the guidelines established by the university conduct board. The student may receive a zero on the assignment or in some cases may receive an E in the course.

- All major assignments will be submitted to turnitin.com to compare against other student work across the United States.

- All suspicions of plagiarism will be taken seriously and infractions that have been proven as violations of the honor code will be reported to your college and the university.
- Be aware of self-plagiarism. This includes re-using any written work or data that you have previously completed.

Academic Honesty

In 1995, the UF student body enacted a new honor code and voluntarily committed itself to the highest standards of honesty and integrity. When students enroll at the university, they commit themselves to the standard drafted and enacted by students.

In adopting this honor code, the students of the University of Florida recognize that academic honesty and integrity are fundamental values of the university community. Students who enroll at the university commit to holding themselves and their peers to the high standard of honor required by the honor code. Any individual who becomes aware of a violation of the honor code is bound by honor to take corrective action (notify instructor, department chair, college dean or Student honor Court). The quality of a University of Florida education is dependent upon community acceptance and enforcement of the honor code.

The Honor Code: We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity.

On all work submitted for credit by students at the university, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment."

The university requires all members of its community to be honest in all endeavors. A fundamental principle is that the whole process of learning and pursuit of knowledge is diminished by cheating, plagiarism and other acts of academic dishonesty. In addition, every dishonest act in the academic environment affects other students adversely, from the skewing of the grading curve to giving unfair advantage for honors or for professional or graduate school admission. Therefore, the university will take severe action against dishonest students. Similarly, measures will be taken against faculty, staff and administrators who practice dishonest or demeaning behavior.

It is assumed all work will be completed independently unless the assignment is defined as a group project, in writing by the instructor. This policy will be vigorously upheld at all times in this course.

UF Counselling Services

Students experiencing crises or personal problems that interfere with their general well-being are encouraged to utilize the university's counseling resources. Both the Counseling Center and Student Mental Health Services provide confidential counseling services at no cost for currently enrolled students. Resources are available on campus for students having personal problems or lacking clear career or academic goals, which interfere with their academic performance. The Counseling Center is located at 301 Peabody Hall (next to Criser Hall). Student Mental Health Services is located on the second floor of the Student Health Care Center in the Infirmary

U Matter, We Care Initiative

Your well-being is important to the University of Florida. The U Matter, We Care Initiative is committed to creating a culture of care on our campus by encouraging members of our community to look out for one another, and to reach out for help if a member of our community is in need. If you or a friend is in distress, please contact umatter@ufl.edu so that the U Matter, We Care Team can reach out to the student in distress. A nighttime and weekend crisis counselor is available by phone at 352-392-1575. The U Matter, We Care Team can help connect students to the many other helping resources available including, but not limited to, Victim Advocates, Housing Staff, and the Counseling and Wellness Center. Please remember that asking for help is a sign of strength. In case of emergency, call 9-1-1.

Services for Students with Disabilities

The Disability Resource Center coordinates the needed accommodations of students with disabilities. This includes registering disabilities, recommending academic accommodations within the classroom, accessing special adaptive computer equipment, providing interpretation services and mediating faculty-student disability related issues. 0001 Reid Hall, 392-8565

Gordon Rule

In order to receive credit for the Gordon Rule Writing Requirement, you must make a C or better. Thus, a C- does NOT meet the Gordon Rule Writing Requirement.

The Writing Requirement (Gordon Rule) ensures students both maintain their fluency in writing, and use writing as a tool to facilitate learning. In addition to requirements listed in the grading rubrics, grammar, punctuation, clarity, coherence, and organization will be assessed by the instructional team for all submissions.
