Office Hours

By appointment, in person and via Zoom. Please feel free to reach out at any time and we can set up a time to talk.

Course Description:

This class integrates concepts and skills that communication and leadership development students have learned in their prior courses with a focus on preparation for future careers and professional experiences. Emphasis is placed on critical thinking, application of theory, awareness of agricultural and natural resource issues, understanding people, and ethics.

Course Objectives:

- Develop plan, creative elements and communications materials for a targeted public information campaign for a specific audience and purpose.
- Integrate concepts of teamwork, conflict resolution, leadership, and project management.
- Integrate communication materials into a comprehensive educational package.
- Think critically about issues facing the agricultural industry.
- Utilize creative and critical thinking skills to develop a professional portfolio of work including statements of philosophy grounded assessment inventories of who you are as a person/professional.

Why should you be excited about this course?

You are all about to embark on exciting personal and professional adventures. Some of you will start your own businesses. Some of you will be government or organizational leaders. Some of you will lead families seeking to be healthy and appreciate natural resources. Some of you will represent nonprofits, commodities or companies facing great challenges. As you go, I want you to be confident in your ability to communicate and lead with excellence. This class is a place for you to apply your communication and leadership skills. It's a place to practice working with others. Hopefully your experience in this class will serve you well as you head out to change the world for the better.

Evaluation of grades

Assignment	Percent of Grade
Portfolio	20
Weekly Work	50
Final Project	30

Unless otherwise noted, every component will be evaluated on 100 points. Your final grade for the course will be calculated on the previous percentages, which will then lead to your final letter grade as based on the following scale:

Grading Scale:

A = 93 – 100%	B- = 80 – 82.99%	D+ = 66 – 69.99%
A- = 90 – 92.99%	C+ = 76 – 79.99%	D = 63 – 65.99%
B+ = 86 – 89.99%	C = 73 – 75.99%	D- = 60 – 62.99%
B = 83 – 85.99%	C- = 70 – 72.99%	E = below 60%

Note: For information on current UF policies for assigning grade points, see <https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/grades.aspx>

ASSIGNMENTS:

Portfolio

This assignment is your opportunity to take stock of your personal online presence as you approach graduation. You will refine the online portfolio of your work that you've developed in other classes to share with potential employers. Portfolios will include your resume, leadership statement, written work samples, video/photography work samples, design work samples, and social media work samples. Portfolios will be evaluated on professional/creative design, navigability, writing and the quality of the work included.

Weekly Work

Students will be asked at various times throughout the semester to engage in discussion with classmates about readings and other course materials. These opportunities are intended to help you learn from each other. You will have assignments each week that correspond to what we're covering that week. Instructions will be given for each assignment in Canvas. All assignments will be graded for content and writing quality.

One of the ways we can learn about effective campaigns is by analyzing campaigns. You will be assigned several communications campaigns to analyze. These reports will take different forms throughout the semester. Some will be written. Some will be oral presentations. Some will involve visual presentations, using the technology you've learned about in other classes. You will be responsible for summarizing the important aspects of the campaign and incorporating visual examples to help your classmates learn about the campaign.

Final Project

In groups, students will put together a public information campaign (includes proposal, project management plan and elements (totals 30%). Student teams will develop a public information campaign for an agricultural or natural resource issue of their choosing. The campaign will include a special event of some type as well as at least FOUR of the following elements, focused around a campaign theme designed to provide information/raise awareness.

Campaign elements can be as follows:

- Press release (on letterhead with masthead and campaign theme/logo)
- News feature story
- Brochure
- Audio news release or podcast interview
- Video news release or social media video
- Web site
- Pitch letter for media or direct mail letter

Grades will be based on the following:

- Four campaign elements
- Event plan
- Campaign plan (is it appropriate for reaching its intended audience?)
- Project management plan
- Visual design of campaign elements (logo, colors, consistency of design)
- Writing quality

POLICIES & GUIDELINES FOR SUCCESS IN THIS CLASS

Grade Discrepancies

If you have a question about a grade you receive on any of the course components, you must contact me within one week of getting the assignment back. After that, grades will not be discussed or modified.

Accommodations

If you know of any type of disability or barrier to your success in this class, please let me know as soon as possible. I want you to be successful and I am happy to work with you. Please note, students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the instructor when requesting accommodation.

Professionalism

The reality of this field is that people judge you by how you present yourself. Your use of language, the clarity of your speaking and your general appearance (even online) and professional bearing will shape the opinions of those who are listening to you. If you deliver a poor, unprofessional presentation, your grade will suffer. I will also grade you on the basis of the facts you assemble, the astuteness of your analysis of the problem, and the soundness of your recommendations.

Group Work

A portion of your grade this semester will be based on group work. This brings both advantages and disadvantages. The advantage is that you are part of a team working together to solve a problem. On occasion some groups experience difficulties with a person who does not pull his/her weight on a project. If that happens in your group, you must:

Try to work it out as a group. Document the problem, how you tried to work it out and the outcome of that effort. Give this to me in a written statement.

- 1) If the outcome of your internal meetings and efforts is less than satisfactory, you should schedule a time to meet with me as a group to discuss and resolve the problem.
- 2) If this meeting still does not resolve the problem, then the group may ask permission from me to remove the individual who is not contributing to the group work.

If you are removed from your group, you will be required to complete the class assignments on your own. Your grade will also reflect your inability to work with your classmates and contribute to the group assignment.

Writing

To be successful in today's world, it is critical that you write well. As such, your grade for each aspect of this course will be based on the quality of your thinking and writing. All assignments should be free of inaccuracies, weak thinking, typos, spelling errors and grammatical problems. Never turn in a first draft.

AEC Expectations for Writing:

In all courses in the Department of Agricultural Education and Communication's Communication and Leadership Development (CLD) specialization, the following writing standards are expected to be followed, unless otherwise specified for a particular writing assignment. Not following these writing standards will result in substantially lower grades on writing assignments.

- Proper grammar and punctuation are mandatory.
- Proper sentence structure is required. This means...
 - Not using “tweet-talk” in your assignments.
 - Making sure that your sentences have a subject, verb, and (when needed) an object.
 - Not having sentence fragments.
 - And anything else that would pertain to “proper sentence structure.”
- No use of first person (I, me, my, mine, our) unless denoted within the assignment rubric.
- NO use of contractions.
- Good thoughts/content throughout the writing assignment.
- For assignments that require citations, use American Psychological Association style. Proper APA citation and reference document is expected.
- For assignments that are more reporter-style articles (news stories, news releases, public relations writing), you are expected to follow Associated Press Style, as discussed in AEC 4031.

AEC Expectations for Design:

In all courses in the Department of Agricultural Education and Communication’s Communication and Leadership Development (CLD) specialization, the following design standards are expected to be followed, unless otherwise specified for a particular writing assignment. Not following these design standards will result in substantially lower grades on design-related assignments.

- Use the proper photographic settings for the assignment (300 ppi for printed photos; 72 ppi for Web). Pixilated photos will result in lower grades.
- Students should not use copyrighted materials for design assignments. For example you may not “borrow” a graphic or design. Commercial artwork that is purchased may be used for assignments. Similarly, you may use ideas for a graphic/design assignment, but the use of the actual graphic/design is not acceptable.
- The following minimal design skills are expected to be demonstrated on all design assignments. The ability to resize an image, create documents in multiple columns, insert a graphic on a page, insert text with a graphic, alter the color of text and/or graphics. Additionally, the student should have moderate ability with the following software in order to complete design assignments:
 - Microsoft PowerPoint
 - Microsoft Word
 - Adobe Photoshop (photographs)
 - Adobe InDesign (print layout)

Deadlines

Deadlines will be given for all work; these deadlines will not be extended. Meeting deadlines is essential to be successful in this course and in our field. Your work must be completed and handed in by the specified date and time. Incomplete work turned in by the deadline will receive partial credit. If you miss a deadline without having a valid excuse, you will receive zero points on the late work.

Online Course Evaluation Process

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluer.com/ufl/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>.

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge:

"We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment."

The Honor Code (<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code/>) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obliged to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor of this class.

In particular, THERE IS ZERO TOLERANCE IN THIS CLASS FOR:

- Giving, accepting or taking unauthorized aid;
- Plagiarizing websites, others' or your own or
- Doubling up on assignments.

ASSIGNMENTS ARE REGULARLY SCANNED FOR PLAGIARISM. ANY VIOLATIONS WILL BE REPORTED TO THE DEAN OF STUDENTS.

Student Assistance and Emergencies

University support services are available to students who are experiencing significant distress and/or personal emergencies. As appropriate please contact:

UF Counseling & Wellness Center: www.counseling.ufl.edu or 352-392-1575

University Police Department: 352-392-1111 or 9-1-1 for emergencies

Final Thought

I want you to be successful in this class, and I will do my best to help you succeed. I am happy to help you address any challenges you face this semester; please reach out to me at any time to discuss any concerns or challenges.

WRITING ESSENTIALS

Writing skills are essential and writing is a skill to be developed in all CLD courses. I will evaluate student writing with consideration for these fundamental writing concepts.

WORD CHOICE	The following words are often confused or misused in writing. Make sure you understand the difference: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • accept, except • a lot • all right • affect, effect • among, between • anxious, eager • because, since • due to, because of • farther, further • fewer, less • its, it's • media (plural), medium (singular) • principal, principle • stationary, stationery
ACTIVE/ PASSIVE VOICE	English sentences have three basic elements: a subject, a verb, and an object. In active voice sentences, the verb is the action element of the sentence, the subject is the "doer" of the action, and the object is the recipient of the action. In passive voice sentences, the subject is not "doer" of the action; the object becomes the "doer" of the action. These sentences flip-flop the subject and the object. In general, active voice sentences are preferred because they focus the reader's attention on the "doer of the action." Active voice is also more concise because it usually involves fewer words. Although there are situations where passive voice is proper, reliance on passive voice produces a cumbersome text. Active: The executive committee approved the new policy. Passive: The new policy was approved by the executive committee.
ANTECEDENT/ PRONOUN AGREEMENT	A pronoun usually refers to something earlier in the text (its antecedent) and must agree in number — singular/plural — with that to which it refers. A pronoun's antecedent may be either a noun or another pronoun, but it must be clear what the antecedent is in either case. A pronoun should have only one possible antecedent. If there is more than one possible antecedent for a personal pronoun in a sentence, make sure that the pronoun refers only to one of them: Incorrect: If a student loses their books, they should go to lost and found. Correct: If students lose their books, they should go to lost and found. Incorrect: Jerry called Steve 12 times while he

	Also, please note that countries and organizations are NOT people. In a sentence in which a country or organization is the subject, the second reference is to “it” (singular) and “its” (singular possessive).	was in Reno. Rationale: The pronoun "he" could refer either to "Jerry" or to "Steve." Incorrect: McDonald’s cancelled all of their advertising, and they later regretted doing so. Correct: McDonald’s cancelled all of its advertising, and it later regretted doing so.
PARALLEL CONSTRUCTION	An article or a preposition applying to all the members of a series must be used either before the first term or be repeated before each term. Correlative expressions (both, and; not, but; not only, but also; either, or; first, second, third; and the like) should be followed by the same grammatical construction. When making comparisons, the things you compare should be couched in parallel structures whenever that is possible and appropriate.	Incorrect: The French, the Italians, Spanish and Portuguese Correct: The French, the Italians, the Spanish and the Portuguese Incorrect: It was both a long ceremony and very tedious. Correct: The ceremony was both long and tedious. Incorrect: My income is smaller than my wife. Correct: My income is smaller than my wife's.
ATTRIBUTION/ CITING	Presenting ideas and phrases from another writer as your own is plagiarism and is unacceptable. In journalistic writing, attribution is indicating your source for a piece of information. You must attribute any judgment or opinion statements. You should not attribute known facts.
PUNCTUATION OF QUOTES	Commas and periods always go inside quotation marks. Semi-colons and colons do	“I like to go swimming,” she said, not go inside quotation marks. If a statement ends in a quoted question , allow the question mark within the quotation marks to end the sentence. On the other hand, if a question ends with a quoted statement that is not a question, the question mark will go outside the closing quotation mark.	“but I am afraid of getting sunburned.” May asked her daughter, "Who are you going out with tonight?" Who said, "Fame means when your computer modem is broken, the repair guy comes out to your house a little faster"?

SUBJECT/VERB AGREEMENT	Singular subjects need singular verbs; plural subjects need plural verbs. Collective nouns (herd, team, board, faculty, etc.) take singular verbs.	My brother is a nutritionist. My sisters are mathematicians.
PREPOSITIONS	A preposition describes a relationship between other words in a sentence. Examples are: after, at, beside, between, during, into, on, with, etc. In everyday speech we often use prepositions where they are not necessary. Eliminate unnecessary prepositions, particularly those at the end of sentences.	The book fell off of the desk. Where did they go to? Where is your college at?

we are
AEC-CLD
at the University of Florida

We are an engaged community of diverse students and faculty.

We learn to think critically and dialogue about agricultural and natural resources issues facing Florida and our world.

We explore the varied perspectives, theories and science underlying these issues.

We build our communication and leadership skills to address evolving agricultural and natural resources issues in a multicultural society.

Dr. Lundy's Teaching Philosophy

Welcome to the first day of class. I look forward to getting to know you and learning together this semester. Before we get started, I think it's helpful for you to know a bit about me and how I approach teaching. A few years ago, one of my former students visited my home one afternoon looking for some advice with a career decision. As I sat across the kitchen table from her, I marveled at how she'd grown from the timid sophomore I met years before to a confident young lady. I felt blessed that I got to share in her journey. I enjoy investing in you and watching you grow over time and follow your passions. To that end, here are some things you can expect in this class:

I actively incorporate experiential learning opportunities in my classes, providing opportunities for you to create communications solutions for real problems. You might write feature stories, develop social media plans or create videos to be used by local nonprofits and small businesses. I find that students produce a higher quality of work when they feel that their work is purposeful.

I will lecture minimally. I want you to take an active role in the learning process. I expect you to be prepared to discuss assigned readings. I often have students present case studies or lead class activities. I will often give you the opportunity to share your ideas in with a partner or small group before asking you to share with the entire class. The idea is to help you work through your ideas so you're more comfortable sharing in a large-group setting.

You must learn how to teach yourself new skills. One of my primary jobs is to teach you how to continue to learn as future communication professionals. Most of the tools and platforms we're talking about now will be replaced by new and different platforms over the life of your careers. As professionals, virtually none of this learning will take place in a formal classroom setting. To this end, I will also encourage you to participate in IFAS/CALS/AEC events and student organizations. There are many opportunities for you to learn beyond the classroom. College is a great time to take advantage of these opportunities and learn all that you can.

I try to go beyond the content of the course and think about how I want you to grow personally and professionally in my class. For example, we do a lot of group work. Through this, I focus on encouraging collaboration, empathy and respectful confrontation. When you have group issues, I want you to respectfully confront your group member and have the difficult conversations. I listen to what professionals tell me about our students' preparedness and I try to incorporate this feedback in my classes to help better prepare you for employment.

Finally, I want to encourage you and support you in your learning. I have two children of my own and one of my greatest hopes is for them to have teachers who challenge them and encourage them. I hope to be that kind of teacher for you.

Go Gators!
